Supply chain risk management that protects the entire hive.

Supply Chain Cybersecurity Risk Management as a Service: Free to the Enterprise.

1.

We verify...

We validate that your suppliers have adequate cyber insurance and are in compliance with your requirements.

2.

We streamline remediation...

Suppliers need regular involvement with threat remediation. DetectBee provides a clear understanding of which suppliers are engaged and which suppliers are leaving themselves open to cybercrime.

3.

We defend through collaboration...

Your allies get threat intelligence and collaborative tools they likely can't get on their own. We identify vulnerabilities and help them protect themselves — and by extension, your organization.

“56% of organizations have had a breach that was caused by
one of their vendors”

DetectBee drives compliance and develops good cybersecurity habits throughout your enterprise’s supply chain — protecting the entire hive.

“About 70% of U.S. small- and medium-sized businesses lack adequate cyber insurance!

Most vendors are unaware of continuous threats against their software and communications infrastructure.

DetectBee continuously seeks out and reveals these weaknesses – and remediations – and achieves this at scale not previously possible.

Finally, your supplier risk management problem is manageable, with DetectBee...

DetectBee monitors suppliers of all sizes.

Protect the entire ecosystem.

Suppliers should be protecting themselves. DetectBee verifies compliance and adequate cyber insurance, and holds Suppliers accountable by requiring a response to threat advisories.

Identify worst performers for prioritized responses.

Improve risk assessment capabilities.

DetectBee communicates with the responsible party on the Supplier side.

Responses are required to drive accountability.

Event-based notifications and collaboration tools help you and your allies see threat as they emerge and address them. Use tools that work, together.

Uncover patterns from global data, personalized to your enterprise.

Assemble business intelligence that means something to your business.

100K+ vendors? No problem!

DetectBee allows unlimited business partners to identify and address threats across your complete supply chain.
